

Are you paying too much in accounting fees? Many businesses do... without even knowing it. If you do your basic bookkeeping and then routinely hand your books over to your Accountant you are probably paying expensive fees (at Accountant rates) for them to do work that an experienced bookkeeper could do for you for much less.

Beware... Do you have any of these?

- Trust & company structure
- Number companies
- Retail software which needs to work seamlessly with your accounting package
- Service Trust transfers
- Motor Vehicle schedules
- Complex Payroll issues

Beware: Not All Bookkeepers are Equal

Many bookkeepers do not have the expertise to deal with the complex issues that come with multiple business entities, payroll and asset management. Even worse... less experienced bookkeepers may 'guess' at what is appropriate, resulting in expensive rectification work left to be done by an Accountant at Accountant rates.

A Proven Solution for Peace of Mind and Lower Fees

Dedicated Bookkeeping is a small quirky team of professionals who have developed a niche in providing bookkeeping to businesses who are interested in having the peace of mind that they are getting the best value for money from their bookkeeping and accounting costs. Your books will be prepared so that your accountant receives your file with fully reconciled & balanced accounts. This makes the job much easier for your Accountant.

Helping Accountants be Accountants – Saving You Thousands

Our thorough preparation of your financial records leaves your Accountant to do what they do best – manage your tax compliance and strategy. In fact, a large percentage of our clients say their accounting fees are now lower than before they used us. Why? Because we ensure their books are in excellent shape before they get to the Accountant.

Real Life Example: One of our clients saved over $12,000.00 in Accounting fees. Even better, the Accounting firm was so pleased they have since referred some of their best and most complex clients to us. Everyone is happy – especially our clients.
